*To A Gallant Lady —
Mrs. Charlene Grygiel*

The Great Physician has called once again,
Called from a land where there's no pain.
This time for a "Gallant Lady" we all know
One that we loved and admired here below.

She worked and labored for her ideas and convictions
She fought for what she believed in without contradictions.
She worked long hours from the morn 'till the night,
Always looking ahead with a particular goal in sight.

She stood by the nurses and the students, too
With something better for them always in view.
She worked for improvements in labor and pay,
Her job was not always, you see, glamorous or gay.

She tried to be fair as she directed the students,
She led them with patience, understanding and prudence.
Realizing they had to be ready to accept the way of responsibility and decision, for them, come what may.

Through her labors, many improvements and new ideas came,
She certainly wasn't seeking for riches nor for fame.
She just wanted what was good and best for everyone
She kept on faithfully fighting 'till the job was done.

She longed and worked for many weary tiresome years,
Yea, no doubt if we knew, she shed many lonely tears.
To see our hospital a National Accredited school
Just keep on working towards it was her favorite rule.

This year her fondest hopes and dreams did come true,
For you see, we received National Accreditation at Lake View.
How very pleased and happy she was to know that at last
All she'd been working and planning for had come to pass.

When it came close to the time that she crossed the tide,
Even then, she whispered to those around her, "I have tried. "
She was a faithful servant and had fought a good fight,
Working for others and always trying to do what was right.

Now that the Great Physician has called from up above,
With a voice full of tenderness and infinite love,
He said as he called, "Tis enough, come with me higher,
Where there'll never be pain and you'll never tire. "

Sleep on, take your rest, you've earned it so well,
Your labors, sorrows and pains are over, Mrs. Grygiel.
We know that your burdens were not always easy or light
But now it is, someone else must carry on with the fight.

Thank you for all the goodness and joy you have brought,
And for the strong, brave gallant battle you have fought.
Rest in that land free from all your toil and pain,
Someday, perhaps in God's tomorrow, we shall meet again.

Student government and council are the chief legislative bodies that enforce, discipline, and enact laws for the betterment of the student body. Providing conveniences to the students living in and out of the dormitory are also part of their duties.

Student organizations represent all of the nursing students, regardless of any difficulties presented.

Advisor to both organizations in Mrs. Taber.

Student Council . . .

is made up of these members of Student Government holding offices, and the class officers, and those students of the various faculty and students committees.

Through the rapid changes in the legislature and the continuing search of knowledge and understanding, a student nurse seeks more knowledge that will improve her professional goal of total patient care.

Involvement in S.N.A.I. gives nursing students an opportunity for an individual growth and development and is the mechanism for students to voice their opinions on issues that affect them.

Senior Prophecies

In 5 years, Jane Wilson will still be waiting for the 1971 yearbook to come in.

In 5 years, Theda Parker will be putting out her shingle as M.D. next to Dr. Thango Velu's.

Marcy Zumwalt will have the only white leather pant suit in Lake view designed by her hubby Ted.

Carma Hazzlebring will be the first nurse to promote state legislation for wearing hot pants in the hospital year round.

Ann Cribley will be the worlds' biggest collector of Cosmopolitan foldouts.

Marilyn Morre will raise a basketball team while hubby, Rich, brags and broadcasts about them over radio.

Pat Thomas will earn her 1st million as a part-time Tupperware hostess.

Michael Pantly will develop contractures from carrying her flash-light on 11-7 shift and will design a built-in spot light in her nurses cap in order to locate the patients.

Jeri Lewis will finally have given up residence in the dorm to take up permanent residence with her husband, Phil.

Cheryl Barber, whose room has been located across the hall from the john the last 2 years, will finally be able to take a good deep breath without having to succumb to the fumes.

Linda Clark is now working for a doctor in Attica, thanks to a recommendation from Instructor, Miss Rumundo.

In 5 years, when Becky Foster's hair is naturally gray, she'll be putting brown hair coloring on it.

Kathy Albert will have enough little boys of her own to play basketball sponsored by Burger Chief.

Carolyn Roberts will be hopping up and down the hall of Hooterville Community Hospital due to the Mexican Jumping Beans that are served in Hoopsten Hospital cafeteria.

In 5 years, Cheryl Markham will have enough money to buy her own ultra-sonic for Brandon.

In 5 years Brenda McVicker will have taught her children to watch for clinical sighs of Hypothyroidism in their mother in case she forgets to take her pill, they can remind her.

In 5 years Sandy Howard will have her own helicopter to bring her to work. That will remedy those long drives from Indiana.

Senior Wills

- I, BECKY FOSTER, will my white nursing shoes to Mrs. Taber. May she wear them with pride.
- I, PAT THOMAS, will my beautiful home grown sun tan to Cindy Fisher. May it brighten up her life.
- I, SHIRLEY SLOOP, will my beautiful good maternity uniforms, and Lamaze pillows to any deserving Freshman or Junior.
- I, THEDA PARKER, being of unspeakable mind, bequeath my interest in Heinz 57 Variety Soup Co. to Miss Norma Taylor, that she may enjoy the spice of life.
- I, MARILYN MOORE, give my young gooding-looking eligible neighbor to Miss Norma Taylor, that she may begin her own 57 Varieties.
- I, ANN CRIBLEZ, will my ability to chase patients down Williams St. at 4 a.m. to any deserving Junior or Freshman.
- I, JERI LEWIS, will the best of everything to my sister, Deb, throughout her 3 years of training, also my crummy OB oxfords.
- I, CARMA HASSELBRING, do hereby will my alarm clock to Sally Gay so she won't have to wake up her neighbors at 6 a.m. to get the correct time, and to Miss Taylor my striped pants that she thought were so cool.
- I, CHERYL BARBER, due to the strategic position of my room (located across from the privy) do hereby will and bequeath one can of air freshener to Linda Pugh, who has requested my room next year.
- I, KATHY ALBERT, bequeath my three most outstanding qualities; 1. my speediness, 2. my punctuality, and 3. my ability to function with as few hours of sleep as possible, to Vickie Draper.
- I, JANE WILSON, leave my stock supply of Mylanta to Carmen Withers, this year's yearbook editor.
- I, BRENDA McVICKER, will my uncontrollable mouth and my ability to keep any secret, to any unfortunate soul.
- I, CHERYL MARKHAM, being of lousy and unapproachable body will Carmen Withers, my wandering, searching friend at Freddie's to counsel and console.
